

The Base General Rules and Disciplinary Procedure

Disciplinary Procedure

The purpose of the disciplinary procedure is to outline the recognised and consistent system to deal with any breach or alleged breach of the rules. The objective is to emphasise and encourage improvements in individual conduct. A full investigation will be undertaken into the circumstances of any disciplinary offence, prior to the implantation of any disciplinary action. It maybe necessary, dependent on the nature of the offence to suspend the employee on full pay while the necessary investigations are completed. Any such period of suspension will be as short as possible. The local LADO may also be notified as necessary in line with the NYSCB Guidance provided.

Disciplinary warnings will only be issued once the '3 step procedure' has been followed, in the exception of informal and verbal warnings. In all instances the employee will be given the opportunity to be accompanied by a fellow employee or a trade union representative. The branch official will be involved if the disciplinary procedure involves a union representative.

A counselling process should precede these, especially when considering capability and time keeping issues.

STEP 1

- 1) The employer must set out in writing the employees alleged conduct or characteristics, or other circumstances, which lead to contemplate dismissing or taking disciplinary action against the employee.
- 2) The employer must send the statement or a copy to the employee and invite them to attend a meeting to discuss the matter.

STEP 2

- 1) The meeting must take place before action is taken, except in the case where the disciplinary action consists of suspension.

Suspension is not to be regarded as a disciplinary sanction prior to the hearing. It is a precautionary measure to protect the integrity of the investigation and the interest of the employee or the employer.

- 2) The meeting must not take place unless
 - a) The employee has received the statement of grounds for action and the invitation to the meeting, and
 - b) The employee has had a reasonable opportunity to consider their response to that information.
- 3) The employee must take all reasonable steps to attend the meeting this meeting should take place as soon as is possible to enable all parties involved in the investigation a speedy conclusion. Minutes will be taken of the meeting and a draft will be shown to all parties before agreed to show a true account of events. A copy of these minutes will be kept on the individual's personal file as a record of events. The employee will be entitled to be accompanied by a representative of their choice at this meeting (either a Union Rep or an impartial individual).

- 4) After the meeting, the employer must inform the employee of the decision, the reason for it and what is then required of the employee in the future indicating the time period and consequences of any repeat or failure and notify him/her of the right to appeal against the decision if he/she is not satisfied with it.

STEP 3

- 1) If the employee does not wish to appeal, he/she must inform the employer with reasons in writing within an agreed period of time.
- 2) If the employee informs the employer of his/her wish to appeal they must put their grounds for appeal in writing to the Senior Play Worker in the first instance, the employer must invite him/her to attend a further meeting after receiving the written appeals notice from the employee. The employee is once again entitled to be accompanied to the 'Appeals Meeting'.
- 3) The employee must take all reasonable steps to attend the meeting.
- 4) After the appeal meeting the employer must take reasonable steps to investigate the contents of the employees appeal. After this the employer must inform the employee of the final decision, in writing.
- 5) The appeal meeting need not take place before the dismissal or disciplinary action takes effect.

Allegations against a Senior member of staff – would be investigated by the Voluntary Management Committee using the same principles set out in the above agreement.

- 3) A written warning (will be implemented after step 1&2 see above)

A written warning will be issued to the employee and a copy placed in the employees personnel file giving full reasons, future requirements, time period and consequences of failure. Usually valid for 12 months.

- 4) A final written warning (will be implemented after step 1-3 see above)

A final written warning will be issued to the employee and a copy placed in the employees personnel file giving full reasons, future requirements, time period and consequences of failure. Usually valid for 12 months.
